Report Says Elders of Doukhobor Community at Nanaimo Have Put Temporary Ban on "Baby Permits"

VANCOUVER—The Vancouver News-Herald said today, in a dispatch from Nanaimo, B.C., the elders of the Doukhobor community at Hilliers, on Vancouver Island, have placed a temporary ban on new babies. Under the laws of the Spiritual Community of Christ, a woman desiring to give birth to a child must apply to the elders for permission. The elders then grant permission, allowing the woman to choose from the male community the one she wants to be father of her child, the paper said.

As a result, the paper said, the community is "swamped" with babies and elders have been forced to discontinue permits to save the community from being overcrowded. The Community, an offshoot of the Doukhobor groups in the interior of B.C., began two years ago with five members and 31 acres of land. It now has 75 members and 230 acres—and 20 babies.

CHILD AXED; MOTHER HIT BY CAR

VANCOUVER—Victim of an axe attack as she lay sleeping in her home here Sunday, 13-year-old Laverne Tindale was in poor condition in hospital today. In a nearby hospital bed was her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Tindale, 41-year-old divorcee, who was injured when struck by an automobile. Police said she had previously attempted to throw herself in front of two taxis. Officers said Mrs. Tindale told them: "I'm afraid I've killed my daughter." No motive was disclosed. Her condition is reported improved.

HINT SPAIN TO ENTER MARSHALL PLAN

PARIS—Foreign Minister George Bidault of France told the Marshall Plan conference today "Europe has been reduced to 16 nations here." He told the delegates at the opening of the conference on the European recovery plan that the "rending apart of Europe" by countries boycotting the Marshall Plan had become fearsome.

Russia and her satellites have spurned participation in the plan. At present the session proposals are expected for the inclusion of Spain and western Germany under the plan.

COAL MINERS STRIKE FOR PENSIONS

PITTSBURGH—A soft coal work stoppage supporting John L. Lewis' "demand" for miner pensions got under way today. Spearhead of the move is in western Pennsylvania, where early surveys indicate nearly one-half of the 56,000 miners walked out.

U.S. Steel Corporation reported nine of its 14 western Pennsylvania pits were closed with 7,000 miners idle. The corporation expected its coal output to drop today about 20,000 tons, or one-third of capacity. Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation reported all its Pennsylvania and western Virginia mines were closed and 4,600 miners idle.

JAIL TERM FOR GENERAL MEYERS

WASHINGTON—Major-General Bennett E. Meyers today was sentenced from 20 months to five years in prison. A federal jury convicted him last Friday on three counts of inducing a former business associate to lie under oath to a senate committee. Judge Alexander Holtzoff, when imposing sentence, said the 52-year-old retired general was guilty of a "very grave and serious offence." The maximum sentence he could have imposed was 30 years.

KENTUCKY BLAST KILLS 7; 26 HURT

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Seven workmen were killed and at least 26 other injured today in an explosion at the plant of the International Harvester Company. The blast, origin unknown, demolished the brick and steel building.

NO HELP IF ITALY GOES COMMUNIST

WASHINGTON—The United States state department said today if Italy goes Communist she will get no further economic aid from the United States.

TIME SAYS ELIZABETH PREGNANT

LONDON—Accessible court sources declined today to comment on an item in Time magazine saying: "Although not officially announced, it was definitely learned from London last week Princess Elizabeth was pregnant." The Princess and Prince Philip were married in November.

FIERCE ARAB-JEW BATTLE WAGES

JERUSALEM—Fiercest battle yet waged on the sands of southern Palestine was reported to be in its third day today with Jewish and Arab fatalities already 36. Retarded by rain and mud, Jewish forces were said by an Hagana informant, to have driven a wedge in their attempt to aid the beleaguered settlement of Gath.

Death toll in the battle so far—Hagana version—is 28 Arabs and eight Jews. An Hagana spokesman said the forces rushing to lift the Arab siege of Gath blasted the municipal building, post office and eight stores and houses in the Arab village of El Faluja, about 20 miles northeast of Gaza in the south.

A correspondent with the Arab volunteer army reported new military courts began a purge yesterday of Arabs charged with dealing with Jews. He said 100 Arabs on the list were hunted down, tried, and if convicted, hanged. The Palestine Government estimated the damage from the El Faluja bombings at $120,000.

ROYAL FAMILY HIT BY STRIKE

LONDON—There was no hot water, no elevator service and furnaces were unlit in Buckingham Palace today, said an official of the resident royal family, following the strike of assistant engineers employed by the Ministry of Public Works. The men struck yesterday at the palace, both houses of parliament and other government buildings in a protest against the treasury refusal to increase their present weekly wage of $19.50 to $22.00.

JET PLANES NOW USE CARRIERS

ABOARD U.S.S. BOXER, AT SEA—The United States Navy's Air Arm is in the process of a conversion of 10-mile-a-minute jet planes. This was announced yesterday by the navy following trials last week aboard this 27,000-ton aircraft carrier. For the first time jet fighter planes operated from a carrier night deck under routine conditions at sea.

FINNS HESITATE ON MILITARY UNION

HELSINKI, Finland—Finland informed Russia there were some "doubts" about military agreements between the two countries. The Finns expressed the hope of staying out of international conflicts. The Finnish president advised Stalin that Finland expects the Russian-proposed treaty of co-operation would be freely considered in the negotiations which open in Moscow next Monday.

Veteran Summerland Shuttle Player Scores Triple Win in Tournament

THE triple wins of George Fudge of West Summerland and Miss Nonie Carruthers, Penticton, highlighted the B.C. Interior Invitational Badminton three-day tournament which concluded here Sunday night.

It was considered a fitting end for a tournament that marked the swan song of the 20-year-old Kelowna Badminton Club building. The barn-like structure that has seen more high-class shuttle play than any other hall in the Interior saw the aging Summerlander, George Fudge, still with enough speed to take the men's singles, and figure in the men's and mixed doubles.

Before a crowded gallery of fans, Fudge ticked off his first unofficial Interior title by defeating stubborn Rex Lupton 15-7, 15-4. Lupton's familiarity with the local courts was expected to stand him in good stead but veteran Fudge was able to get all of Rex's smashes back and then some.

Battle of the night came in the men's doubles—as expected—when the Summerland team of Fudge and Bill Evans finally won out in three sets over Kelownaites Lupton and Jack Treadgold. Scores were 18-15, 9-15, 15-8.

Fudge added his third crown in the nightcap, teaming with Miss N. Carruthers, Penticton, the ladies' singles winner, to take the Kamloops team of Herb Minnion and Mrs. Rowe in two straight, 15-3, 15-8.

Ladies Triple Threat
Miss Carruthers' win over Mrs. P. Cornwell, West Summerland, in the final Sunday night, came as a bit of a surprise. Mrs. Cornwell won this event last year and had little trouble reaching the finals.

The two singles finalists—Miss Carruthers and Mrs. Cornwell—played a 15-4, 15-4 wins over Mrs. Ida Kerr and Miss Marjorie Wright, of Kelowna, to take the ladies' doubles.

To complete her triple triumph, Mrs. Carruthers teamed with Fudge in the mixed doubles win over Minnion and Mrs. Rowe from Kamloops. Second flight play provided some real battles Sunday afternoon. Men's

Second Auto Impounded In Kelowna Area Under B.C. Responsibility Law

Condition of C. A. Olson, 27, of Westbank, who suffered painful injuries in a motor accident at Tremblay Thursday evening, was described this morning as "good." He is suffering from a fractured collar bone, a possible fracture of the spine, bruising and shock. Police said he was driving a car owned by Rea I. Haggstrom, also of Westbank, when it left the road and rolled over.

Damage to the car was negligible and Mr. Haggstrom, riding in the car, was unhurt. The owner could not show proof of financial responsibility and the car is at present impounded in a Westbank garage, police said.

Mr. Haggstrom's car was the second one to be impounded in the Kelowna district since the financial responsibility law went into effect this month. Both were impounded the same day.

First Impoundment
First car to be impounded in Kelowna under the new B.C. financial responsibility regulations is owned by Frank Schaefer, Kelowna resident.

Impoundment papers were signed Thursday and the car is now held in a local auto body shop. Mr. Schaefer, police said, was unable to produce a "pink slip" to show he carried public liability insurance on his car or had complied with other regulations recently passed by the B.C. Legislature.

Mr. Schaefer became entangled with the law when his car was slightly damaged in an accident near the Ellison overhead bridge Wednesday. He was alone at the time and no other car was involved.

Shuttle Winners

Unofficial champions of the B.C. Interior are:

Men's singles — George Fudge, West Summerland.

Ladies singles — Miss Nonie Carruthers, Penticton.

Men's doubles — George Fudge and Bill Evans, West Summerland.

Ladies' doubles — Miss N. Carruthers, Penticton, and Mrs. P. Cornwell, West Summerland.

Mixed doubles — G. Fudge, West Summerland, and Miss N. Carruthers, Penticton.

Second flight winners of the three day B.C. Interior invitational meet were:

Men's singles — Art Dimock, Princeton.

Ladies' singles — Mrs. R. G. Russell, West Summerland.

Men's doubles — Ches Larsen and F. Richards, Kelowna.

Ladies' doubles — Joyce Austin and Pamela Leacock, Kelowna.

Mixed doubles — Bill Evans and Miss Eleanor Johnson, West Summerland.

Third flight, mixed doubles — Dave Collins and Miss Joyce Hutchinson, West Summerland.

Sankey, Rutland; Mike Stoltz, Rutland; Adam Stoltz, Rutland; and Takeyoshi Kariya, Mission Creek.

All except the last two paid fines of $5 in addition to costs ranging from $3.50 to $5.30. Stoltz and Kariya were given suspended sentences when there was doubt as to whether they received proper notices.

E. W. Barton, secretary of Kelowna School District 23, told the court the school district had the power under section 122 of the School Act, to assess non-property owners. He said decision to assess $5 was reached in November, 1946.

After several notices had been mailed out, and finally a registered letter, all but "seven or eight" were delinquent, he said. He said the tax was a "comparatively new" step by the school board and was for the year 1947.

All those appearing before the magistrate admitted having children in the public schools in the district where they lived.

Other visiting motorists from the United States were confronted with similar situations, but it is expected that notices sent to all provincial and state governments will result in the general carrying of guarantee cards by visitors so that the tourist business will not be adversely affected.

Automobiles of many motorists, innocent in accidents causing more than the allowed $25 damage, have been impounded because they could not prove, on the spot, they had insurance or other security worth $11,000. This is required by the 1947 amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act.

The car of an innocent person might have suffered no damage in a collision but if "damage to the other car was more than allowed, the first person would be required to provide proof of financial responsibility or have his or her car impounded.

Vancouver Officials Blush
Vancouver civic officials have found themselves in the embarrassing position of having to impound two of their own vehicles — a fire engine and an isolation ambulance — until financial responsibility could be proved. Now all city drivers carry the pink slip that shows the vehicle they drive is covered.

Burton Minshall, visitor from Brattleboro, Vt., faced the prospect of going home by train when his car was involved in an accident causing a $5 dent in his car and more than the allowed damage to the other vehicle. He said he had insurance but was unable to prove it. Vancouver police relented and released his car.

Other visiting motorists from the United States were confronted with similar situations, but it is expected that notices sent to all provincial and state governments will result in the general carrying of guarantee cards by visitors so that the tourist business will not be adversely affected.

Canvassers in rural areas have been handicapped during the past week by bad roads.

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society has collected 50 per cent of the $8,000 quota as the half-way mark in the current campaign.

While the drive has been "draggy" in spots, several rural areas have already gone over the top. Canvassers are urged to turn in money as soon as possible. Okanagan Mission, with a quota of $851.50, has collected $900; South Kelowna, with a quota of $200, has collected $285, while the Kelo exceeded its quota of $410 by $115.

Joyce, Kinsmen, and a number of women who canvassed the business area are the only three groups that have exceeded quotas in the city. The Joyces have exceeded the $145.50 quota by about $25. Kinsmen have collected $120.60, $56.60 more than the quota, while $1,200 has so far been collected in the business area, $200 more than the original quota.

Canvassers in rural areas have been handicapped during the past week by bad roads.

Speedboat King Will Not Hold Preliminary Trial Runs Before Coming to Canada

Set 1948 Mill Rate Next Week

1948 mill rate will probably be set by the City Council next Monday night, well-informed sources said this morning.

For the past six weeks or two months, City Fathers have been reviewing the estimates of the various departments, and the estimates of the finance department will be considered tonight. It is understood aldermen have severely cut estimates of some departments, in order to keep the mill rate as low as possible.

Unless the provincial government gives organized municipalities some relief in school costs, this will cause a heavier burden on city taxpayers. It is reported council is basing the 1948 school costs on last year's figure.

New Features

With Spring "just around the corner," thoughts are rapidly turning to gardening, and with a view of assisting novices who have recently acquired homes of their own, The Courier today is running the first of a series of garden pages which henceforth will appear every Monday.

The material is supplied by well-known garden authorities, including feature articles by Cecil Solly, who is well-known in agricultural circles in the Pacific Northwest. The articles will be of special benefit to small home owners.

Also starting today is the first of a series of articles entitled "Human Interest Stories," written especially for The Courier by Douglas W. Smith, public relations officer for the Canadian Legion. First of Mr. Smith's articles appear on page 7 of today's edition.

APPLICATION IS SHELVED

Application from Rex Lupton, on behalf of Central and West Kelowna Housing Corporation, for permission to purchase a piece of property in the industrial section of the city on which to build a combined garage and warehouse, was referred to Aldermen Jack Horn and Maurice Melke for investigation, when the matter was discussed at Council meeting Monday night.

TRUCKS MUST SHOW NAMES OF OWNERS

Compulsory to Show Name and Address of Registered Owner of Vehicle

Police intend cracking down on truck owners who do not display their name and address on the side of the truck.

During the war years, it was compulsory to show the name and address of the registered owner of freight vehicles. Similar regulations have been part of B.C. motor laws since December, 1945.

Registered owners are required to show their name and address in letters at least two inches high on both sides of the truck. Penalties are provided and police have been instructed to prosecute.

The Motor Carrier Act says: "Unless otherwise ordered by the Commission in writing with respect to any vehicle, every licensed freight-vehicle shall, while being operated on a highway, have displayed on both sides thereof, so as to be clearly visible to the public, in letters and figures not less than two (2) inches high, the name and address of the owner of the vehicle, as registered under the Motor Vehicle Act, or the registered trademark and address of the owner of the vehicle."

"Reckless driving has got to stop," said Stipendiary Magistrate H. Angle sternly as he suspended Adam Quaiser's driver's licence for three months and fined him $50 and costs in district police court Friday morning.

The Rutland man pleaded guilty to a dangerous driving charge arising out of an accident Thursday evening on the Vernon Road, near the Rutland junction. Mr. Quaiser had the required "pink slip" showing he carried public liability insurance.

The car was slightly damaged as it left the road and took to the ditch. A passenger was in the car but the only injury was a bruised right eye suffered by the driver.

"Obviously another case where someone escaped injury luckily," the magistrate observed as he handed down the sentence.

Sir Malcolm Campbell Willing to Conduct Initial Tests on Lake Okanagan Before Seeking New World's Record—W. T. Buss Receives Letter From Famous British Racer—Awaiting Final Word on Financial Arrangements Before Going to British Government

Trials Would Cost $5,000

SIR Malcolm Campbell, famous British speedboat and automobile speed record breaker, will not make a preliminary test in England before bringing his jet-propelled Bluebird II to Kelowna in July to try for a new world's record on Lake Okanagan.

This was the latest word received by W. T. Buss, a personal friend of Sir Malcolm's who stated the British speed-boat king is awaiting final word on financial arrangements before going to the British government for permission to bring Bluebird II to Canada.

Sir Malcolm estimated it would cost $5,000 to take Bluebird II and his mechanics to Lake Coniston, in the north of England, for preliminary tests, and Mr. Buss recently suggested to Sir Malcolm that this money could be saved by carrying out initial trials on Lake Okanagan. Mr. Buss, a new-comer to Kelowna, is now setting up a boat manufacturing plant here, and the factory will be completed within the next month. In a letter to Sir Malcolm, he said he would be in a position to do any necessary servicing to Bluebird. Bluebird has been redesigned, and the potential horsepower has been increased from 1800 of the gasoline engine to 3,000 by jet propulsion.

Work on Bluebird will be completed by the end of April, Sir Malcolm informed Mr. Buss in a letter received last week. "It is no use approaching the necessary authorities over here unless I can tell them that all expenses upon my arrival in Canada will be met. I therefore await hearing further from you on this subject," Sir Malcolm stated.

Financial arrangements have been underway for the past month or six weeks, and are expected to be cleared up very soon.

Mr. Buss pointed out to Sir Malcolm that to consider expense in shipping Bluebird from the southern part of England to Lake Coniston, several mechanics would have to make the trip, and after arriving there, the party may have to wait around for several weeks for ideal conditions. He pointed out Lake Coniston is very rough at times, and the delay in waiting for smooth water runs into considerable expense.

Special Boat
Meanwhile, Mr. Buss is making special arrangements for a boat which will be used for holding several large starting batteries that will be used in sending Bluebird II off on her record-seeking mark.

Mr. Buss, along with F. S. Moore, of South Kelowna, recently returned from Seattle Boat Exposition. He has designed a special type of vessel which will suit the average boat enthusiast, and the first one will be launched in about five weeks' time.

A new union agreement was discussed by a representative of the Kelowna branch of the Okanagan Valley local No. 953 I.A. Fire Fighters and members of the City Council meeting this morning.

The directors of the brigade conferred with City Fathers later in the afternoon, and it is understood certain recommendations will be made to council next week concerning the appointment of a fire chief. Last week council officially appointed Fred Gore as paid fire chief, and he will also carry on his duties as assistant fire marshal.

Under the new set-up, council was under the impression that the fire chief will no longer be elected at the annual meeting of the brigade. Informed sources state the directors want the position of fire chief open for election every year, with the appointment later being sanctioned by council.

The matter will be thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the brigade tonight.

CASUALTY INSURANCE
City Council was informed Monday night by the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade that it desires the casualty insurance to be carried on the same basis as last year.

Normal Spring Run-off Indicated With Ample Water For Irrigation

THERE is every indication that the run-off of snow in McCulloch will be similar to last year when no undue hardship was experienced as a result of Lake Okanagan rising above the agreed maximum, according to a report issued this week by the water rights branch of the provincial government. Heavy snowfall during the month of February improved conditions considerably, and while there is every indication that there will be ample water for irrigation purposes, at the same time no trouble is expected when the snow melts on the upper levels.

Two years ago a considerable amount of lake-shore property was inundated with water, while last year, the run-off was satisfactory. Conditions this year are expected to be about the same as in 1947.

At the end of February, the snow in McCulloch had an average water content of 108 per cent of normal, and 98 per cent of last year's March 1 measurement. Soil moisture conditions in the Okanagan are favorable, however, and most of this snow cover will be available for summer run-off.

A. D. Marshall, local water rights official, said that a slightly better than average summer run-off can be expected, providing no extremes in temperature or precipitation occur during March and the run-off period. Precipitation during February was above normal, which brought the total precipitation for the period of November to February to a point slightly below a ten year normal.

Of eight snow courses measured in the main Columbia Basin at the end of February, seven show an above normal water content varying from 104 per cent of normal at the Farron Course in the Lower Arrow Lake area to 133 per cent of normal at Field on the Kicking Horse River. These measurements indicate above normal run-off is probable in the Columbia Basin.

Snow cover measurements in the Kootenay Basin show a water content averaging 124 per cent of normal, varying from 119 per cent of normal at Nelson to 135 per cent of normal at Kimberley.

Below Average
According to figures released this week, the depth of the snow at McCulloch at the end of February was 28.7 inches, with a water content of six inches. Compared with last

ALD. J. J. LADD ACTING-MAYOR

Alderman J. J. Ladd will be acting-mayor at the regular meeting of the City Council tonight during the absence of Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games.

Mr. Hughes-Games has been confined to bed with a cold since he returned from Nelson last week.

U-Turns on Bernard

Kelowna has been extremely fortunate in that there has not been a fatal automobile accident in the city limits so far this year. But the fact that some individual has not ended up on a cold marble slab in an undertaking parlor is no credit to the motorists, nor the pedestrians or cyclists for that matter.

Every day motorists are appearing in city police court charged with excessive speeding, or driving through school zones, etc., while insofar as cyclists are concerned, they continue to show utter disregard for traffic regulations by riding three and four abreast. School children are perhaps the most rapid offenders, especially during the noon hour and around 4 o'clock.

Traffic on Bernard Avenue has increased three-fold during the past few years, and on any busy day during the week, especially Saturday afternoons, pedestrians and motorists are dodging one another, as the latter endeavor to find a parking spot. The one-hour parking limit does not seem to have alleviated the parking situation in the city, and car owners are still loathe to park their vehicles a few blocks away from the main street.

Unless drastic action is taken within the near future, there is bound to be a fatal accident on the main street. During the last week, there have been several narrow shaves, as motorists make U-turns on the main street while endeavoring to find a parking spot. Their eyes are not focussed on the road, as they are glancing in all directions for an empty parking place, with the result that people darting out from the curb to cross the street are endangering their lives.

Which brings us to the matter of enforcing stringent regulations on Bernard. The traffic committee should give careful consideration to prohibiting U-turns on Bernard between Abbott Street and St. Paul Street. Granted, there will be many protests from motorists, but the situation is reaching a point of utter confusion, and by directing some of the heavy traffic off the main street, a two-fold purpose will be accomplished. The chief one of course, is to improve safety on the main street. Secondly, it will divert traffic to the secondary streets where new businesses have started up. In other words, there would be a tendency to enlarge the city's shopping area, thereby encouraging business men to build on side streets.

The horse and buggy days are a thing of the past. Kelowna is growing up, and in order to keep pace with the rapid expansion, steps should be taken to meet these rising needs.

B.C. Sales Tax

There is growing opposition to the proposed B.C. sales tax, and latest reports indicate that Finance Minister Anscomb will make the official announcement on Wednesday when he delivers his budget speech in the Legislature.

Premier Byron Johnson contends that the provincial treasury has "been caught between rising costs—due to expansion of public services, particularly social services and education—and the spiral of inflation," so it "must increase revenues and decrease expenditures."

The provincial government is in no different position than the average taxpayer. In this present inflationary period, it is up to everyone to cut their cloth to suit their means, and in doing so, it means cutting out certain

"luxuries", if the budget of the average individual is to be balanced. Before Premier Johnson and Mr. Anscomb go after "increased revenues" (which, baldly means more taxes which will simply compound the individual taxpayer's financial problem) they should assure themselves, and the citizenry, that there are not any luxuries being paid for by the provincial treasury. They should also consider the advisability of solving the "inflation-spiral" problem at the expense of the already-spiralled taxpayer.

Opposition to the sales tax stiffened sharply when some members of the Coalition Government aligned themselves with those opposing the impost. Vancouver City Council has demanded a split in the proceeds of any such tax, which, it is reported, would cover everything except essential foodstuffs.

Mrs. Tilly Rolston (Coalition-Vancouver Point Grey) lined herself with the opposition in a legislative speech when she said the women of the province would not stand for a sales tax. She termed it as "the most retrograde tax that ever could be devised"—a tax that would just clutter up a pocket or purse with tokens.

Cabinet ministers had no comment on her speech, but doubtless they are worried—worried where taxation is going to stop. Insofar as motorists are concerned, it would be a double dose after another boost in the price of gasoline last week.

More Protection Needed

The tragic story of death by fire has been written with distressing frequency across Canada this winter. Scarcely a day has passed since the beginning of the year without its tale of a family trapped in a blazing home.

Sometimes the occupants manage to escape; too often one or more are burned to death; whole families perished in some cases. Year after year, these tragedies repeat themselves, despite the words of caution from safety authorities. And yet nothing seems to have been done by anyone to remove the major cause of most winter fires.

It is not hard to understand that carelessness cannot be legislated out of existence and that little can be done to remove this cause other than by painstaking education and, perhaps, by punishment of criminal negligence. Similarly, it would be difficult to achieve better protection for remote farm homes without an intolerable financial burden on rural areas. But in built-up, urban areas, it should be possible to reduce the fire hazard considerably below its present level by the enactment and enforcement of adequate protective bylaws.

Building bylaws are only one part of the answer. Many cities and towns have kept well abreast of the times in this respect and the safeguards they demand are recognized by underwriters as a significant factor in keeping fire loss to a minimum.

Yet, day after day, reports on urban fires continue to list such causes as "defective heating system", overheated furnace pipes and "overheated stove". There are those who see in such phrases not an explanation of cause, but merely a symptom of the fundamental defect. Their belief is—and facts would seem to bear them out—that too many homes are equipped with heating systems inadequate for the task they must perform. In other words, while furnaces are built to certain specifications, they are frequently installed in buildings that are beyond their capacity to heat. When cold weather comes, such stoves and furnaces must be "forced" to produce the needed warmth; pipes become overheated and a conflagration follows.

The hazard created by installing a furnace designed to heat a building of 25,000 cubic feet, in a building half as large again, should be apparent to anyone. And yet ordinary municipal building codes offer no protection against this danger. Until the installation of heating systems is as carefully controlled as other building practices, fires due to overheated pipes and furnaces will continue to exact their toll of life and property.

OTTAWA—Today I saw Barbara Ann come home—Barbara Ann Scott, the European, Olympic, world's figure skating champion. Last night when I walked along Sparks Street and saw every shop window carrying some message of welcome, I knew it would be something in the nature of a triumph such as the people of Rome gave conquering generals. Photographs by the thousands, simple messages posted on the window glass, flags, elaborate windows with life-size replicas... but every window did have something to add to the banners stretched across the street in every block. Every window, that is, except those which operate in a community just for what they can take out of it; those chain stores whose policy is take and never give.

As I walked down Sparks Street I could not help but feel rather pleased that Ottawa was going all out to tell Barbara Ann that it was proud of her. So often a town is proud of her. So often a town, triumphs of a native son or daughter. For some reason, the smaller the town, the more reluctant are its people to acknowledge that one of their own has achieved something in his field. But, obviously, Ottawa was determined that its skating daughter would know its feelings.

This morning I used my press card and managed to get into the station where I could see the training. Later I slipped across to the Chateau Laurier and saw the parade and saw her arrive for a civic luncheon.

Six deep from the curbs, Ottawa lined its downtown streets with cheering thousands. Adults and children from infants to an excited Prime Minister, dropped everything in one wild concerted effort to make the champion's home-coming the greatest ever accorded to anyone in the flag-draped capital. Ottawa which, on indifference to the view the Eisenhowers and the Edens of the world, which can't get too excited even over Churchill, really "went to town" over Barbara Ann. Civic holiday (unofficial but general), schools let out for half a day, business forgotten, this was one of the maddest and most wonderful days Ottawa has seen.

No wonder that Barbara Ann arrived in a private car. No wonder that the Canadian government overseas went all out for her. This is the girl which has made the world forget Sonja Henie.

The story, of course, has been told before, but it's one story which cannot be told too often. It is, in many ways, the greatest success story Canada knows. Somehow, this little unknown blonde girl to a household word throughout the world, is a story that actually out-Cinderellas Cinderella, and makes it very plain that truth can always be stranger than fiction—and more wonderful.

No wonder the Canadian government quietly wired authority to its trade commission to spend some money to entertain Miss Scott! The world's greatest skater, a million and not get as much favorable publicity as a five-foot little lady brought to Canada. Today as the world acclaims her, the experts say that the future of skating is the Scott of today, and that the Ottawa girl is better than the moody and temperamental Sonja was at her best.

Like eager swains, Prime Minister King and Mayor Lewis were waiting anxiously on the station platform as her train rolled to a stop. They kissed her. Not once; not twice, but fully a dozen times. Barbara Ann threw her arms around them, smiling, carefully giving the perfect answers and mentally plotting their human relations like chess players is just about as drab an outlook as I can imagine.

According to the prospectus this success school guarantees to give its students the ability to avoid arguments, arouse enthusiasm among business associates and live a happier life at the office and at home. These and the rest of the promised results are all very noteworthy. But I have a faint suspicion that they might eliminate a little of the zest of living.

Whether Mr. Carnegie likes it or not, his best bet would not only fail to avoid arguments, but go out of their way to get into them. This is half the fun of having friends. Also, there is never a dearth of enthusiasm among my associates, although it is generated with neither tact nor diplomacy.

And as far as gaining a happier home life is concerned, I can only say that Mr. Carnegie must be a bachelor. As every husband knows, the nearest thing to organized affection or domestic psychology instantly arouses the alert suspicions of the little woman and invariably ends with a titanic battle.

I don't want to disappoint any young business men who may be planning on brushing up their approach with a few Carnegie hints. But to the layman, whose constant frustration and petty arguments are just about the last concession to individuality, human relations are still something of an exciting mystery. The thought of us being able to do it, although it is generated with neither tact nor diplomacy, is not a pretty one.

A fine of $10 was levied in city police court, March 5, on John V. Ferguson for being intoxicated in a public place.

their necks to hug and kiss them. The surging crowd cut Mr. King off from the champion and his secretaries struggled to clear a path for him, shouting, "Make way for the Prince Minister." But the crowd mowed way today for only Barbara Ann.

A band struck up "O Canada" and then "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and the station packed with the mob outside joined the chorus and from Bessie Street out to Rideau and on up to Wellington, the usually staid old capital swung happily on the beat of the love song.

Still shouting "Make Way for the Prime Minister," Mr. King's secretaries, running interference, for him, finally managed to wedge him through the crowd to Barbara Ann's side as she was entering her car. Standing up in the daffodil covered car, with a big armful of roses, Barbara seemed to be riding a bouquet of clouds in her beaver coat, she was a beauty and replied to the cheers of acclaim with the same enthusiasm as they were given her. Four bands and a convoy of 10 RCMP motorcycle escorts and a scarlet-coated mounted guard of 10 RCMP horsemen escorted her car.

So great was the cheering that a band passed within twenty feet of me and I did not hear a note. Ticket tapers poured down from every window. Ottawa, accustomed to snow storms, today created a paper storm to rival the worst blizzard of the winter.

No wonder they planned a welcome for this little princess of the ice. Not hard to understand, either, why it is that Rideau, the Parliament Hill, the City Hall, and all other walks of life from the highest to the lowest vied with each other in singing her praises. War heroes we honor, statesmen we respect, clergymen we reverence. But here is a girl who parlayed a pair of double runners, endless hours of practice, a will to win, and a mother's determination, into the highest honors the world can give her, in her sphere of activity.

But Ottawa today wasn't honoring Barbara Ann Scott because she can skate better than anyone else. There's more to that than this talented blonde kid who has just taken the world by storm. Barbara Ann Scott was honored because she represents the finest and the highest of Canadian womanhood. She demonstrated once more, how in this country you don't need money, you don't need position, you do not need anything but yourself to get ahead in the world.

This sounds more selfish than it seems. But she did, by her own determination and her own ambition, go ahead and do the things that less souls and weaker children could not or would not do. Now comes the pay-off in the world's accolade. Those first fumbling funny beginnings on double runners, as a hobby and of interest when she skated on her posterior as often as on her skates; those eager first ventures on single blades; those tiresome, endless hours of practice; those keen, blue eyes always focused on the shining goal—all these things must be assayed when appraising the victory of Miss Scott. This is not just a triumph of Canadian skating. This is a triumph of Canadian character.

Now all the dreary years of training, the cold, drab training on empty rinks, are behind her. The dull rehearsals, the endless striving, have all paid off. Today she is Olympic champion. No one will deny that she will go on to new triumphs, to even more dazzling heights. After all at 19 you are making a beginning, not an ending. But the fact remains that once more the old copy book maxims have come true, that the seemingly dull admonitions about working hard and trying diligently are really bright precepts after all. Miss Scott has a world's title to prove it.

So, no wonder Ottawa turned it's side upside down today to pay tribute to its first lady. No wonder she is being crowned by popular esteem, by universal admiration, by real affection. Barbara Ann Scott is home, the most distinguished woman in the world, perhaps, Canada has ever produced.

CHEQUES NOW BEING MAILED

Hundreds of Kelownians who have been looking forward to receiving their "refundable portion" cheques, promised for March, can expect to receive them between now and the end of this month. Advice from Ottawa last week stated that mailing of cheques will start March 15 and continue until the end of the month. All are dated March 31 but "arrangements have been made with the banks to honor them before that date."

They are not being mailed in any particular order but all will be by registered mail. KAMLOOPS CITY COUNCIL last week rejected the school board's $362,831 budget for 1948 as "excessive" but indicated the action was chiefly designed to impress on Premier Byron Johnson and his cabinet the urgent and immediate need for revision of the education finance set-up in British Columbia.

DeLuxe

Now improved to give you

34% MORE MILEAGE

at no extra cost

It's a POSTWAR TIRE AT PREWAR PRICES

NOW—Canada's most popular tire—Goodyear's famous DeLuxe—has been improved to deliver 34% more mileage... yet it sells today at less than pre-war prices.

Millions of rugged road-test miles have proved that this new DeLuxe averages 34% more miles than the big-mileage Goodyear it replaces.

It's a tougher tire in every way! Huskier shoulders mean greater strength. A wider, flatter tread puts more rubber on the road to give you extra wear... give you extra sure-footed traction, at all times, on all roads. Stronger Supertwist cord provides extra stamina and extra protection against blowouts.

HAND-MADE SUCCESS

Sometimes it seems that life is getting really too simple.

Whenever I run across an ad for something like a patented nipple that refuses to feed the baby its milk unless it's the proper temperature I get the feeling that things are progressing so fast that soon we'll have everything neatly figured high (or low, depending on the viewpoint) in the so-called "success schools" which are held across Canada by Dale Carnegie, the fellow who wrote that book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Thousands of hopeful young business men are flocking to these schools to learn the art of human relations and salesmanship.

As one who learned the business of winning friends the old-fashioned way, a simple procedure of keeping an ice-box filled with beer and fried lamb chops, and who has long since given up the hope of influencing anything, I should probably be among those enrolled in a Carnegie class.

But the very thought of anything so basically cold-blooded as putting human relations on a scientific basis causes me pain. The picture of thousands of young business men all with brittle and Carnegie ap

CAGE PROTEST DISALLOWED

Kelowna Bears' protest of the second Kelowna-Kamloops senior B cage playoff game here Saturday night was disallowed, according to word received here last Friday. Bears won the disputed game 50-46 but lost the series for the championship of the northern section of the Interior Basketball Association 101-83. Kelowna protested over Kamloops protesting in the same game on what the Kilowatts said was "faulty timing."

HUB CITY CAGER GETS MENTION

KAMLOOPS — Gordon McQuarrie, centre of Kamloops High School's Red Devils quintet, was selected by Vancouver and New Westminster sportswriters as centreman of the alternative all-star B.C. high schools basketball squad. Selection was made during the recent B.C. High School cage championship at New Westminster. Kamloops bowed out near the end of the journey to Magese High School, Vancouver, who went on to take the championship.

Development of Playgrounds in City Moving Satisfactorily, KART Told; Recreational Facilities Are Improved

ATHLETIC and recreational-minded boys and girls, and young men and women of Kelowna and district should find more playground and recreational facilities here this year. As the long-heralded plan for developing more playgrounds in the city is taking shape, the movement's chief sponsors, the Kelowna Athletic Round Table, at its meeting Thursday night, learned that two other tracts of land may help solve the residential section problem.

KART President, Charlie Pettman, told the meeting that Kelowna school board officials had promised grounds around the present high school and the proposed new high school would be "thrown open" for recreational use during the summers and "off hours."

The other site is on Sutherland Ave., near the Catholic Convent School. Use of approximately two acres owned by George W. Sutherland has been offered for playground purposes, Pettman said.

Developing Starts
 Meanwhile, work is starting at some of the five other sites set aside for playing grounds. Bulldozing on the Sutherland Park site at the north end was started last week and the Lions Club hopes to have buildings valued at $1,100 built by this summer.

Clearing has been going on at the Strathcona Ave. site on the lake-front for some time. Other sites are at Osprey Ave., in the south, Stockwell and Graham, near the Graham St. Primary School and Exhibition Park.

Work is being undertaken by the city where the playgrounds are on their own hook. There is a possibility, though, that other service clubs will step in and take charge of developing the grounds.

The Knights of Pythias has been mentioned as considering taking over the Strathcona Ave. development.

Another Baseball Diamond
 Development of the Exhibition grounds is in the hands of the Kelowna Elks Lodge. A spokesman at the KART meeting said some work is planned, but he could not specify.

When a tour was made of this site recently, Ernie Lee, provincial director of recreation, saw great possibilities there for a good baseball diamond.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Beware of boredom!

Many people spoil their chances for success in their work, blight a happy home life and even harm their health—because they allow themselves to be bored. So if you find you are losing your zest for living, take that as a warning signal.

Contrary to what you may think, boredom is not an unfortunate state of mind due to circumstances beyond your control. It is your fault. But within you lies the power to change.

Try reading new books and different magazines. Go to work by a different route now and again. Dress in your best clothes more often. Bring home some unexpected treats. Develop new interests and hobbies.

Above all, take more interest in other people. Speak to them differently, enthusiastically. And lend a helping hand wherever you can.

You'll soon wonder how you could ever have found life dull! And you'll find that your corner of the world is a mighty interesting place after all!

It may also pay you to take a new interest in your life insurance program from time to time. Your family's needs keep changing. So it's wise to keep reviewing your policies to see if they meet your changing requirements.

A KART spokesman said it was "easy to clear up the park for a ball diamond. All it needs is a little bulldozing."

Money For Olympics
 After a spirited debate on who should supply the money for Kelowna's share in B.C. Olympics fund, the matter was tabled awaiting further information. But KART went on record as offering its organizing power to furthering the Olympic program for the Kelowna district.

Pettman said B.C.'s quota for the fund was $15,000 but no definite amount had been stipulated yet for the Okanagan zone. Half of the $15,000 will go to the Canadian Olympic body and the remainder remain in B.C., Pettman told the meeting.

The latter half will be used to assure that everyone gets a chance at the trials and to establish a fund to promote athletes between the points. Dick Parkinson, Kelowna, is one of the five vice-presidents of the B.C. Olympic body.

Kelowna Ski Patrol's application for membership in KART was accepted. Invitations to join will be sent to the St. John's Ambulance body and the Kelowna Figure Skating Club.

Show How Money Spent
 Loan of $300 to the Kelowna Baseball Club to begin operations for the year was approved, conditionally. The ball club president, Ed Scantland, was told the club would have to pay back the money, if it could, give a financial statement at the end of the season.

Scantland first applied for permission to sell membership tickets at $5 each but permission was withheld. He said the annual KART financial drive.

MANY KELOWNA CURLERS FOLLOW FINALS CLOSELY

Kelowna sportsmen are no exception when it comes to curling. The recent Dominion championships at Calgary, which saw Theo D'Amour's rink from Trail bring the title to B.C. for the first time, was followed with avid interest by curlers' two Kelowna here.

At least one curling fan went so far as to visit the Stampede City explicitly to take in the championships. He was Wallace Taylor, real estate dealer, most followers of the "round game" however, had to stay at home and followed the progress in the papers.

Press reports from Trail indicate Frenchy D'Amour's squad is back in normal routine after being felled all the way from Calgary to their home town. Biggest celebrations were at Nelson and Trail with hundreds of citizens joining in.

Loss Only One Game
 The Trail outfit—Jim Mark, Fred Wendell and Bob McGhie are the other members ended the curlfest with eight wins and one defeat to take the MacDonald Brier tankard. Second was Manitoba with seven wins and one defeat. Ontario was third with a 6-3 mark.

It took a thrilling extra end victory over Gaston Amyot of Quebec City to take the title during the last night of play. A crowd of 2,200 fans gathered to witness the final—cheering with all the enthusiasm of a hockey clash, the Quebec Trail game stole the show for it went 13 ends before D'Amour's team had the last shot with the last rock of the match to take an 11-10 verdict.

The Trail rink is the toast of B.C. these days and the D'Amour team has been crowned in Trail. There are several rinks there of potential championship calibre and when next winter rolls around a real fight is looked for before the defending champions are picked.

Manitoba Won 11 Times
 Meanwhile, Winnipeg reports say Gangster's Manitoba rink is offering no excuses for its defeat. The skip comment was: "We were beaten... that's all there was to it."

Manitoba's 11 victories in 18 years of play—the best provincial record in the event.

Sangsdalen was the only rink in the Canadian final to hang a defeat on D'Amour's powerful quartet, runners-up in the 1947 championship.

Undaunted by austerity and food rationing, Oxford and Cambridge rowing teams met for the Battle of the Blues. The age-old rivals will meet March 27 in the 94th renewal of the annual crew racing classic—"The Boat Race."

Tradition in Britain's sport world, Cambridge seeks its 50th victory over the Dark Blues who have 43 triumphs to their credit. The rowing duel attracts thousands of Britons who never get fed in their universities and speculation on the result is the main topic in pubs from Land's End to John O'Groats.

The course is a winding, four-mile stretch along the Thames from Putney to Mortlake and the number of spectators who annually jam the river's banks is placed at 1,000,000.

This seems a bit steep, when you consider they're not all rowing enthusiasts. You don't have to be a Boat Race watcher; merely to be familiar with the universities' ancient rivalry of the shells guarantees that some time or other you'll watch a renewal of the contest. It's one of the biggest events of Britain's sport year.

Two slim craft, 16 husky oarsmen and a pair of pint-sized coxswains are the principals in the pageant. The crews are made up of training, maximizing a winter of gruelling practice hampered by serious difficulties. The economic crisis seems to be at the bottom of the trouble. New boats are scarce and expensive, and British rations don't make for stamina-building.

Whale Steak and Milk
 Food has proved quite a problem. The need for supplementing the 2,700-calorie daily diet of the hard-training crews was something of a headache for coaches, but their ingenuity provided the answer. Oxford went for whale steaks to bolster their diet and the Light Blues bought a cow to increase the herd.

Of course by this time the race has built up superstitions, and one is fast becoming a hazard to morale. A rapidly-growing belief is that the eight which leads on the break will win the race. In other words, whichever shell finds itself a few strokes behind at the outset is said to be a sure-fire loser and no amount of back-breaking will overcome the initial handicap.

Cambridge won last year's race by 10 lengths, after breaking out from within the first few years, and more than one observer felt that no other finish was possible.

One letter writer to The Times offered this solution. Motorboats travelling down the river behind the straining eights edged up to get

LADIES' COMMERCIAL LEAGUE Wednesday Night

Ladies' bowling teams aren't getting something for nothing these days—when they have to fight for it, that is. Only team to get four points in Wednesday's matches was Royalites, defaulted by Fumerton's. Other seven matches had 3-1 endings.

Elleen Ogborn, leading off for the Greenhorns, led the way for all the females with a 275 single and a 636 triple. Ribelin's had the best team single of 979 and Manhattans the three-game—2570.

Five more weeks of play will have to be run off before the league schedule ends.

ROLLER HOCKEY PROVES POPULAR

Second organized stab at roller hockey ended in another victory for the Kelowna Kodaks. Kodaks trounced the Rinkrats 11-3 at the roller rink Tuesday night.

In a preliminary girls' game, Lions defeated Cougars 7-5. The same two teams of girls will play again tomorrow night.

Two other boys' teams have been organized, roller rink owner O. Middleton reports. These two will meet in the main game Tuesday. Winner will play the Kodaks the following Tuesday.

There is still hope of organized inter-city play in the Valley, according to Middleton. Arrangements are underway with roller rinks in Vernon and Penticton.

Fifty per cent of last Tuesday's proceeds—about $650—was turned over to the Kelowna Athletic Round Table by the rink owner.

PORTRAITS NOW ON DISPLAY

Portraits by "Virgie" are attracting attention in the window of Percy Harding & Sons, Ltd.

"Virgie" Thompson has a facility with pencil or brush and whether she uses a photograph from which to copy, the likeness is faithful and her clients are pleased with the results. One recognizes many friends smiling from the display window, friends in whom the artist has understandingly caught an expression which gives the portrait an intimate and natural quality.

A farewell present in the form of a pipe was given Dr. Gordon Brown, by Dr. Jim Rankine, at a dinner in his honor, held at El Rancho Thursday night, by the Kelowna Medical Association, Dr. Walter Anderson, Dr. Jack Cruise, Dr. Alec St. G. MacPhillips, Dr. Hector Moir, Dr. Stan Underhill, Dr. J. A. Urquhart and Dr. Gordon Wilson. Dr. and Mrs. Brown leave today for San Francisco and plan to make their home in California. Dr. Brown will attend the California State Medical Convention, being held in San Francisco on April 10.

The "Messiah" by Handel will be given at St. Michael and All Angels' Church on Tuesday, March 16.

LAST OF WAR BRIDES

Bringing to an end the famous "Operation War Brides," thousands of whom have been brought to Canada from England and the Continent, is shown with her husband, MARTIN, after their reunion in Montreal recently. Married four years, they had been separated for only five weeks. Martin worked in England after his discharge from the army. Mrs. Muters shared the distinction of being the last war bride to arrive in Canada with six others. The government has brought more than 64,000 wives of Canadian servicemen in Canada.

NOTED PIANIST, GEORGE HADDAD, VISITS KELOWNA

With the arrival in town at the week-end of George Haddad, Kelowna welcomed one of Canada's outstanding pianists. Born in East-end, Sask., the Syrian, pianist, George won top honors in Canada's Provincial Musical Festival when eight years old. At 13 he had his A.T.C.M. and at 14 was a conductor, enrolled at the Toronto Conservatory of Music where he got his Bachelor of Music degree. He studied on scholarships in New York and Philadelphia with Olga Samartoff-Stokowski, Serkin, Bauer, Edith Newcomb, Isabel Vengerova, and Maurice Dumesnil, a personal friend of Debussy.

Haddad ranks highly among Canadian artists and is gaining great popularity in the United States. He has opened his 1947 season; the Montreal Symphony, C.B.C. Symphony, Hart House String Quartet and in joint recitals with Lucille Manners and Paul Robeson. He has been guest with the Detroit Pops Orchestra and three times soloist with the Detroit Symphony. He toured South America last fall, and the Eastern States, and on the latter trip, gave ten recitals in ten nights. His Town Hall recital won acclaim from the critics, one New York paper saying he is "one of the new leading lights on the musical horizon." He gave a command performance before the Governor-General and Lady Alexander when a banquet was given for him at Government House. This was only the third time that a Canadian pianist had been so recognized.

Since the New Year, George Haddad has been touring Arizona, California and the Western States. In Hollywood he did some broadcasting in Warner Bros. studio; was entertained by Atwater Kent at Bel-Air where he met most of the Hollywood celebrities; and lunched with Dorothy Lamour.

When the directors of the Vancouver Symphony heard him in recital a few days ago, they immediately signed him for next season. George Haddad always includes the work of some Canadian composers in his programs and usually his arrangements of Syrian folk songs. He has been asked by the symphonies of Montreal, Toronto and Detroit to arrange this folk music for orchestra.

Painting in oils and leather work are some of Haddad's hobbies, and a well-worn wallet he carries was made by himself. Swimming, badminton and tennis are his pet sports. George Haddad made a flying visit from Vancouver for the week-end to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haddad, at Windsor, Ontario, who are spending a week here, and to visit old friends. He leaves shortly for engagements in the Bahamas.

Mr. Peter Jones-Evans left today for Vancouver, where he will join his brother, Bill. His mother, Mrs. L. H. Jones-Evans is at present in San Diego, playing with her father, Mr. J. J. Smallman. Peter has spent the past two years at CKOV. He and Doug Herbert have done excellent work in making ski films.

PRE-DANCING PARTIES ARE BEING PLANNED

St. Patrick's Day excitement is already in the air, with preparations for the Joyce annual celebration, to be held at Eldorado Arms, Wednesday, March 17.

Some of those booking accommodation for the Emerald Isle Cruise are the president and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Knox, who are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hayman, Mr. and Mrs. Rhys Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Shireff and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Willis.

Mr. Royce Bazett, vice-president, and Mrs. Bazett have invited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hotson, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ker, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Wilson for cocktails, prior to the dance.

New arrivals from Ipswich, England, Mr. and Mrs. John Green, will be entertained by their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Green, with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buckland and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sinclair-Thompson, of Beaver Lake, in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Mellin, Miss Joyce Austin, Miss Marjorie Wright, Mr. Doug Monteith and Mr. Bob Stephens, of North Vancouver, will make up another party.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Purvis and Mr. and Mrs. Don Wheatley will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark. Another party is being arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Chapin, and Mr. Vic Lewis, of Glenora, is planning his birthday celebration, as usual to coincide with the Joyce jamboree.

Although tickets are limited to 100 couples, a few are still available.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-

Here's Good News!
Are you between the ages of 48 and 52 and going through that trying functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!

Many wise "middle-age" women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress. Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs.

Have a GOOD Breakfast

Nutritionists Say
Include Grape-Nuts in a Balanced Breakfast

Just 2 Tablespoons of Delicious Grape-Nuts

provides the cereal share of a good breakfast. You'll love those golden, crunchy kernels of whole wheat and malted barley. And they help give you the carbohydrates, proteins, minerals you need for a vigorous morning of work or play. Remember, Grape-Nuts is the most economical part of a good breakfast. Order Grape-Nuts from your grocer.

A GRAPE-NUTS ECONOMY RECIPE
Let Grape-Nuts Replace Expensive Nuts
GRAPE-NUTS ICE-BOX COOKIES

3 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter (for mixture of butter and shortening)
1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs
1 cup Grape-Nuts
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

• Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt again. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, creaming well. Beat in eggs, one at a time, adding creaming well. Then add flour. Pack. Add Grape-Nuts and lemon juice, then vanilla. In greased small loaf pans, cover with waxed paper, and chill over night. Turn out on greased sheet in 14-inch slices. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (325°F) 7 minutes. Makes 8 dozen cookies.

Passing our "Know How" along

We are continually exploring the rich possibilities of Aluminum; developing new alloys, improving fabricating methods, studying new uses. Such information is passed along to the thousands of Canadian engineers and production men who work for the independent manufacturers making the Aluminum products you see in your neighbourhood stores.

Bob Simmons is improving his buildings with aluminum roofing, ventilators and flashing—not only because it's attractive and pleasing... or because, being light, it's easy to handle. No. He's not being "fancy," he's being far-seeing.

For aluminum lasts—it is non-rusting. Aluminum needs no upkeep. Because it has these qualities, new uses for it are being found daily. It is ideal for many architectural applications—so easy to clean and keep clean. It is being used for all sorts of tools and implements. As paint, it provides a weather-resisting metallic shield.

Bob Simmons' wife, too, finds aluminum a labour-saver—as pots and pans, in the washing machine, vacuum cleaner, brooms, mops, dustpans... A versatile metal—aluminum!

Helpful Hints And Tips For Gardeners

HERE'S HEALTH to the wise housewife who insists on Maxwell House Coffee. It's Radiant Roasted to capture every atom of goodness in the Superb Maxwell House blend.

By covering a seed-box with a pane of glass, you not only keep moisture in the soil, but insure a humid atmosphere above it. But wipe off drops of water which accumulate on the glass, and ventilate by lifting up one edge on warm, sunny days.

All spring planting should be timed according to the date when killing frosts are over in your vicinity. Veteran gardeners can tell you this, better than the weather bureau.

TIPS GIVEN IN PLANTING NEW LAWNS

One and Only Secret is Method By Which Ground Is Prepared

GRASS ROOTS

Cecil Solly, Noted Gardener, Gives Many Helpful Hints On Preparing Soil

The one and only secret in the planting of a good lawn is the method by which it is prepared. It does not matter how careful you are in the selection of the right kind of grass seed. You can pay a high price for perfect, weed-free seed mixtures, but they cannot produce a good turf if the soil is not first properly prepared.

Grass roots should be able to penetrate easily into the soil to a depth of six inches. For them to penetrate easily it is necessary to prepare a perfect soil medium.

There are two things that fresh soil must have in the initial preparation. They are humus and air. They are both equally important and equally necessary. To provide the latter—air—the soil should be cultivated at frequent intervals to allow the air, sun, rain, wind and other natural elements to work their magic by promoting the growth and multiplication of the helpful soil bacteria, without which no soil can be fertile enough to grow good grass.

After the soil has been properly leveled, many gardeners plant a crop of potatoes or corn on the area. The crop is generally only fair but the soil is greatly benefited and, after a couple of years, its condition is much improved.

A much better method is to plant one or more green manure crops. The system is simple. A suitable and inexpensive crop is grown, when it is thick and heavy, it is spaded into the soil, where it will decompose and provide many tons of valuable humus which is necessary for the production of a good grass turf.

A third and much quicker method is to procure peat moss, black peat soil, leaf mold or rotted manure. Spread it thickly—two or three inches deep—and spade it in.

Applying Peat Moss
Of all the materials that are available, the only one which is quite weed-free and always available for immediate use is peat moss (sphagnum).

After the existing soil has been worked and properly leveled, the peat moss should be spread (wet) over the area to a depth of three inches. It then should be thoroughly mixed with the soil to a depth of at least six inches.

Spading and cultivating are both methods often used, but when this work is done the peat moss must neither be left on top nor turned underneath. It must be mixed thoroughly.

One of the best ways to do this is to hire a rototiller. An ordinary-sized lawn only takes a couple of hours to cover properly and this Rototiller method is the best and quickest method of mixing the peat moss and the soil.

Plant food should be spread over the peat moss so that it may also be thoroughly incorporated in the soil to six inches of the soil.

It is necessary to use a sufficient application of grass plant food on two separate occasions:

1. When the peat moss and soil are properly mixed and the seed bed is prepared—1 pound to each 25 square feet.

2. As soon as the grass plants commence to grow—even before the grass is cut—1 pound to each 50 square feet.

Lawn Fertilizer
Properly blended plant foods are absolutely necessary to supplement what is available from the soil. Your favorite brand of commercial lawn fertilizer should be spread over the whole area at the rate of one pound to each twenty-five square feet about four weeks before the seed is planted. It should be scattered evenly and raked into the surface soil.

Since the most important function of supplying plant foods to the grass is to produce a healthy sturdy plant, with plenty of strong roots, all the necessary food must be included in any fertilizer used. Grass roots are continually being replaced. If there is not enough of the necessary elements to do this, an inferior root growth will be the inevitable result. Poor roots will not grow in a short time, so plan to feed the roots by the use of a properly balanced plant food which contains every one of the necessary elements in their correct proportions.

Two materials that will greatly assist the fertility of the soil are lime and charcoal. Both of them will do their part in keeping the soil "sweet" if mixed deeply when the ground is prepared. The charcoal absorbs detrimental soil acids and thus assists the plant foods to do a better job of plant feeding over a longer period. The lime will not only provide necessary calcium for soil sweetening and feeding the grass plants, but will also release many other plant foods that are present in the soil.

Don't grow seed indoors too early. If plants grow too big before it is safe to set them in the garden, growth will be checked.

Science Shows Best Way To Water Indoor Seed-Box

Two Methods of Watering Seed Box O. K.'d by Science.

So important is water to seedling plants that it is started in greenhouses, hot-beds or in the home, that scientists in several universities have made exhaustive experiments to learn a safe method of watering.

If the soil gets too dry, the tiny seedlings with their shallow roots may perish in an hour. If kept too wet, fungi may develop, resulting in the fatal disease called "damping off." To keep the moisture "just right" was formerly a matter of experienced judgment, and required a constant watch on the seed flat, difficult for the amateur.

But science has found two methods which may be followed both better than the old-fashioned way of spraying on water from above, whenever in the judgment of the gardener watering was required. These methods are illustrated. On the left is the wick method; on the right, sub-irrigation.

Dr. Kenneth Post of Cornell University, who has been a leader in experiments to develop efficient watering methods, was asked which method he recommended.

"I believe the best method of watering seed flats in the home is the wick method," he said. "This method of using a burlap wick or one of glass which can be obtained from the various seed houses, inserting one wick in the center of

When globe radishes grow into an oval shape, the fault is probably not in the seed, but in dry weather, which causes the roots to elongate in search of water.

Revival of Victory garden organizations throughout this country is urged by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Light is the limiting factor for most seed boxes started in the house. A cold frame or hot-bed provides far more light than even a south window.

The need for air in soil has been emphasized by experiments with so-called nutrient solutions, in which plants are grown without soil. Except in California, some device by which air can be supplied to the roots has been found necessary for healthy growth. A loose soil, composed of coarse particles, allows air to penetrate.

KNOW YOUR TREES

Sitka Spruce
(Picea sitchensis)
A coniferous tree occurring on the coast of British Columbia, particularly on the Queen Charlotte Islands. Found mainly at low elevations, generally in moist, cool alluvial and sandy bottoms, along streams and especially on moist slopes facing the sea. Best growth in constantly moist, deep, rich soils and humid atmosphere. A large and massive tree when fully grown, often attaining a height of 125 to 200 feet and a diameter of 4 to 6 feet.
An excellent pulp species. Suitable for high-grade finishing lumber, veneer, cabinet construction, scolding boards, boats and oars. Particularly valuable for airplane construction.

Wages in British Columbia's Pulp and Paper Industry are the highest for the industry in Canada.

RUTLAND BOY SCOUTS HOLD CARD PARTY

Group Committee of Association Collects Around $30 as Result of Party

PRIZE WINNERS

Bridge, "500" and Cribbage Tournaments Held During Evening

RUTLAND — The group committee of the Rutland Boy Scouts sponsored a very successful card party in the Community Hall last Wednesday evening. There was a good crowd in attendance, and the committee added over $30 to their funds as a result of the affair. Bridge, 500 and cribbage tournaments were held and several tables of "rummy" and other games were played individually. Refreshments were served at the close by the ladies of the group committee.

Following were prize winners: Bridge—ladies' high score, Mrs. R. Stevenson; men's high score, Bernard Heltzman; 500 — ladies' high score, Dorothy Mayford; men's high score, Eddie Cousins; cribbage—ladies' high score, Mrs. C. Mallach; men's high score, Ray Jacobs.

Walter Hall, of Langley Prairie, was a visitor to the district last week, staying with his son W. E. Hall.

Rutland Board of Trade Executive Ready to Open Fire Equipment Campaign

RUTLAND—The Board of Trade executive met at the home of Bernie Heinzman last Wednesday afternoon to consider a number of important matters. The question of publicity in connection with the coming campaign for obtaining fire-fighting equipment for Rutland was the most important item that was discussed. Two meetings are planned for the first week in April, at which the scheme will be explained in detail. Circulars will also be sent out to all residents giving the main details of the plan, and the equipment to be purchased.

The secretary was also instructed to write to the B.C.F. G.A. executive to see if a part of the park property could be used for the construction of a fire hall. The executive found that they could not accomplish all the business that had been planned for the short afternoon meeting, so arrangements were made to have an executive meeting on Tuesday, March 16, at 7.30 p.m., and spend the full evening dealing with the unfinished part of the agenda, including the question of domestic water.

The matter of the area that the Rutland Board of Trade proposed to include was discussed, and it was agreed that the Rutland, Black Mountain and Ellison school districts should be the local Board's area.

of the B.M.I.D., is acting as secretary to the board during the illness of Secretary D. McDougall.

RUTLAND — Mrs. Axel Eutin is a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital, suffering from bronchitis.

Jack Garner attended the meeting of the Anglican Synod at Nelson, as a delegate from the local Anglican congregation.

Mrs. Victor Stewart was a weekend visitor to Tranquille. Friends of Vic Stewart will be glad to know that he is making good progress and expects to be discharged and sent to Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver, next month.

Word has been received that the plans for the new High School, gymnasium and auditorium have been approved, and it is hoped that an early start will be made on construction.

Jerry Pleym was fined $10 and costs in district police court Feb. 18 for carrying firearms without a licence.

Co-operative Society Now in Position to Negotiate Loan of $50,000

SIGN AGREEMENT

Installation of Machinery and New Boiler Will Take Place When Equipment Arrives

RUTLAND — The Rutland Co-operative Society has raised a total of $26,100 for the new box factory, and the company is now in a position to negotiate a $50,000 loan from the Industrial Development Bank, it was announced this morning.

When the Industrial Development Bank was approached some time ago for a loan, it was stipulated that the Co-operative Society would have to raise at least $25,000 before the $50,000 loan was granted.

An agreement was signed more than a week ago, and it has been sent to the bank's Montreal office for approval.

The box factory building is rapidly nearing completion, and installation of machinery and a new boiler will take place as the equipment arrives. Tom Wilkinson, president and A. W. Gray, secretary of the co-operative society left over the week-end for Vancouver, where they will confer with the Vancouver manager of the Industrial Development Bank.

Mr. Gray will also confer with government officials regarding the implementation of the Clement report in an endeavor to have the findings of Dean Clement embodied in legislation that would finalize the irrigation debt.

MANY ATTEND RUTLAND W.I. "IRISH" TEA

Members of Institute Decide to Donate $10 Toward Children's Appeal

RUTLAND — The Rutland Women's Institute held an enjoyable "St. Patrick's Tea" at their regular monthly meeting last Tuesday in the Community Hall. There was a good attendance of members, and a large number of visitors were present. In addition to the tea, there was a short program that included a showing of the Tree Fruit Board's film "Land of Sky Blue Waters," which proved a most interesting picture.

Rosemary Paul sang a number of songs, accompanied by Miss Joyce Burge, and these were much enjoyed. A short business meeting was held at which $10 was voted to the Canadian Appeal for Children fund, and Mrs. F. Oslund was chosen delegate to attend the W.I. convention to be held in Vancouver in June.

Plans for the Okanagan-Similkameen district convention, to be held in Rutland in April, were also discussed. A raffle was held during the afternoon for a cushion, the winner being Miss A. Zennis. Refreshments were served at tables especially decorated with shamrock designs.

C.N. Clarke was fined $10 and costs in district police court February 28 for not having a trailer licence properly displayed.

HUMAN INTEREST STORIES

By Douglas W. Smith
Public Relations Officer,
Canadian Legion H.Q.

(Special to The Kelowna Courier) Have you ever stood in a railway station long before your train is due, and like a magnetic attraction your eyes keep travelling towards that slow moving station clock? The darn thing never seems to move along.

Last summer after emceeing a Legion convention in Minneapolis I was sweltering in the Dearborn Station in Chicago waiting for the Toronto train. The temperature was 96 and the humidity about nine million.

I was standing at the canteen rail sipping a short beer. Alongside were two American G.I.'s. The conversation went like this:

G.I. No. 1: "Ya see by the papers where them lousy Russians is getting ready for trouble again?"

G.I. No. 2: "Sure did, chum."

G.I. No. 1: "Well, if you ask me it's high time we went over there and blasted them to pieces with our atom bomb, before they starts any trouble."

G.I. No. 2: "Thass O.K. by me anytime."

G.I. No. 1: "Boy, I'd sure love to have one of them Russkies dead in my sights right now."

What makes people tick?

What makes people want to blow the dickens out of their fellowmen?

Then we dig in at an abandoned and shell-shattered farm house in search of a cask of cider. The din is out of this world and it seems as if the very earth is about to be split asunder. In the middle of all this hell three tank men resting are in a corner and the conversation goes like this:

"Shoot the 50 francs!"

"I'll take two and six."

"Twenty-five francs open Joe-ya got it?"

"Yeah-I'll go for a half buck."

"Gotcha."

"All set? C'mon babies . . . NATCH."

It's no use trying to explain to the missus, she wouldn't get it.

NO GOV'T JOBS FOR REDS IN BRITAIN

LONDON—Prime Minister Attlee announced in the House of Commons today the British Government had decided not to employ anyone known to be a member of the Communist Party in work "vital to the security of the state". He said the "same rule will govern those known to be actively associated with Fascist organizations." A person in any way associated with the Communist Party "in such a way as to raise legitimate doubts about his or her reliability" would also come under the order, said Attlee.

TAFT ESCAPES INJURY IN AIR PLUNGE

VASSALBORO, Maine—An airplane carrying Republican presidential aspirant, Robert A. Taft, and Senator Owen Brewster, plunged today into the Kennebec River but Brewster said neither he, Taft nor the pilot were hurt. Brewster said John T. Clarke, pilot of the Maine Aeronautics Commission plane, "did a great job" setting the craft down when it developed engine trouble en route from Augusta to Bangor.

WIDESPREAD REVOLT IN COSTA RICA

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica—A desperate Costa Rican government tried today to stem a revolution sweeping over the country. The opposition has been virtually isolated the capital.

Seventy-five per cent of San Jose's power plants have been blown up and opposition forces said they were trying to get the remainder. The city's industry is at a virtual standstill, and a general sit-down strike has been called for tonight.

Underground sources say the government appealed to General Anastasio Somoza, former president, and number one strong man in Nicaragua, to send help as soon as possible.

HALF-MILE PANICS 400 PASSENGERS

BROCKVILLE, Ont.—Speeding 75 miles an hour, a locomotive hauling a seven-car pool train from Toronto to Ottawa, Saturday night heeled over dangerously during a half-mile brake slide 13 miles west of here, threatening the lives of 400 passengers. With the baggage car ablaze, the east-bound train lurched and plunged as the air brakes were applied. Passengers said they were flung from one side of the train to the other. Flying metal from a shattered piston rod pierced a tank of illuminating gas under the baggage car, setting it on fire, while a dangling engine rod rammed into the railway ties, causing the locomotive to lurch.

POOL SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED AT WESTBANK

Returns to Grower From 1947 Crop May Be Lower Than Previous Year

WESTBANK — A. K. Loyd, Mr. Darrough, and G. E. Brown, of Tree Fruits, addressed a meeting of the Westbank Local B.C.F.G.A. on Thursday evening, March 11, in the Memorial Hall, when about a third of the members answered the call to hear these speakers, and also to receive a brief report of the recent convention of the B.C.F.G.A. held in Penticton, which was given by J. N. Basham, one of the delegates, and the secretary of the Westbank Local.

The B.C. Tree Fruits' staff members were present for the purpose of guiding their interested audience through the maze and intricacies of the system of allocating a fair share of the consumer dollar to each individual apple; having particular regard to size, grade and classification of the product.

Mr. Loyd spoke at some length in explanation of the why, the wherefore and the development of the pooling system. Mr. Darrough then took over and advised that the pooling process was actually dual in nature; one concerning apples and another stone-fruits.

Not Complicated. In demonstrating the workings of the pool, Mr. Darrough said that the charts which he used were not nearly so complicated as they were not, or would seem to indicate. This statement was amply borne out by the step-by-step method adopted by the speaker, even when carried out to an interminable string of decimals, which he quickly explained was done by machines.

George E. Brown lent valuable assistance as an indicator during the demonstration, and during the question period which followed gave out the information that total returns to the grower might be slightly lower than the 1946 figures, due chiefly to the order from the 1947 B.C.F.G.A. convention that a wider spread of prices be established as between Cee and higher grades.

Chairman of the meeting was J. W. Hannam, president of Westbank Local B.C.F.G.A.

There are differences, of course. Communists desire the destruction of capitalism and the setting up of the state as the complete overlord, with the Communist party controlling the state. They believe that can be accomplished only by revolution, and the 'liquidation', which is a euphemistic term for slaughter, of all opponents of that idea.

"Socialism desires the destruction of capitalism too, and the setting up of the state as the complete overlord. They believe that process can be accomplished piecemeal, little by little, and the state administered as a benevolent despot—by themselves. They would shudder at the thought of the slave-labor camps, which are one of the means by which the Communists liquidate all who oppose their views.

"The end result isn't very different, whatever the Socialists may say. It is a state controlling everything—hours and wages, where you may work and when, where you may live, and how, what you must plant and when, and everything else; in fact, the whole terms of your life.

"In Communist states, members of the Communist party rule, and only Communists. They form the aristocracy. In Socialist states, bureaucracy rules, and one is just about as much of a dead hand as the other.

"In neither Communist nor Socialist states can there be freedom as freedom is known in democracies."

Forestry Association Co-operating in Giving Elementary Courses to Children

FORM CLUBS

Kelowna High School Students Will Get Lectures From the Forestry Officials

One hundred and seventy school classes in various parts of British Columbia recently started a course in elementary forestry under a plan sponsored by the provincial branch of the Canadian Forestry Association.

The courses, in co-operation with school officials, are being given in elementary, junior and high schools. This was reported by an official of the Canadian Forestry Association who said that a great many of these schools have also formed forestry clubs and have undertaken to start experimental tree nurseries and have arranged lectures by men engaged in forestry.

A club has been formed in Kelowna High School, Principal W. J. Logie reported. He said arrangements are now being made to have local forestry service men give lectures to the boys in the club.

Good Course

"It's a very good course and it should help to make good citizens out of our young men," said Mr. Logie.

The C.F.A. has also made available its library of 60 forestry films to schools having sound projectors and its lecture unit will visit a great many more schools before the end of the term.

The elementary forestry course, compiled by W. F. Myring, chief junior forest warden, covers parts of a tree, tree types, forest enemies and the industries.

"By Products of Wood Waste" by George K. Miller, secretary-manager of the Canadian Forestry Association, was also provided to the schools along with a booklet on woods travel entitled "A Guide to Campercraft and Woodlore."

Last year the association brought its films to an audience of over 90,000 school children and through forestry clubs and courses it is planning to increase its efforts of conservation among the school children.

GLENMORE WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

The March meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Community Club was held at Mrs. Guy Reed's home on Thursday afternoon. Election of officers for the coming year was held, and arrangements were made for another card party to be held on Wednesday night in the hall.

Officers elected were: president, Mrs. Guy Reed; vice-president, Mrs. Mrs. Newman; secretary, Mrs. Weist; convener of buying committee, Mrs. Percy Rankin; publicity, Mrs. R. J. Marshall.

The regular council meeting was postponed owing to illness of some members. The Reeve and councilors, however, made a tour of the municipality on Wednesday checking up on road conditions.
